

Alchemy Chorus Zoom 2 : 23 September

Yes, we gathered again to sing (a little), laugh a lot, and share news. It was Dementia Action Week, and we did our bit.

Stephen (Irish eyes) was on note, without accompaniment (just Susan getting a snap for the family album)...

Val & Mike led us in the round Brother John (keeping the periscope down on Frere Jacques...dormez vous?)...

Lauchlan took us through a jaunty poke at Covid with The Deliveryman

the Deliveryman with thanks to the Wellerman!

1. There once was a virus that got out of hand,
That Covid virus ran across this land,
The winds blew up, her cases blew out,
Blow me bully boys, blow!

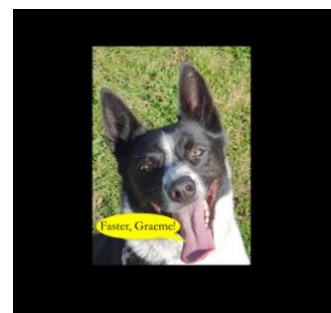

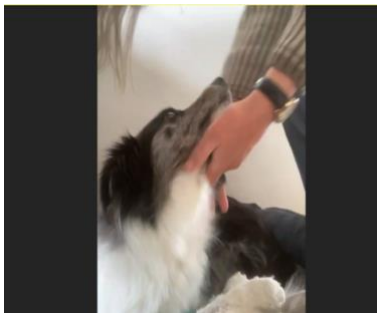

Sep arrived, clearly prepared for anything...

.....and Graeme was there, still wondering where all the hairdressers have gone

Some four-legged friends joined the chat...

And we celebrated our wonderful carers with a couple of songs.

If you haven't made it to a zoom session yet, there'll be another opportunity real soon.
